

Frequently asked questions ...

Q: How much does the Conference cost?

A: There is no charge for the conference. If you feel led to give a donation, there will be a free-will offering each evening to help with expenses of the conference.

Q: Who is this conference intended for?

A: Anyone interested in more information on the Bible – theologians, pastors, Christians, and students.

Q: How do I cancel my registration?

A: Go to www.deanbibleministries.org/chafer, look on the left side under Registration for the Cancel Registration link, fill out the form with your name and email address and submit the form.

Q: How do I reserve space for a display at the conference?

A: We are providing ten display tables for ministries wishing to represent their organization. These are on a first-come/first-serve basis, and must be approved in advance. Those interested in reserving a display table should e-mail Connie Balthrop at connie@deanbibleministries.org.

Q: How do I access the latest conference information, including schedules, papers, presentations, audio and video files?

A: Go to www.deanbibleministries.org/chafer to get up-to-date information.

Q: If I'm unable to attend some of the sessions, how can I access the information that was presented?

- A:
1. We will have live streaming available for all sessions at www.deanbibleministries.org/live, so you can view the presentations live from your computer and mobile devices.
 2. Audio and video files of each session, as well as the papers and/or presentations, will be available within a day of presentation at www.deanbibleministries.org/chafer.
 3. Once the conference is completed, you can order video DVD and/or audio files from Dean Bible Ministries – visit www.deanbibleministries.org.

Overview of the 2016 conference

Chafer Theological Seminary (CTS) continues to stand for an inerrant Bible and a literal interpretation. One of the foundational doctrines derived from this is a young earth creation (with or without a gap between Genesis 1:1 and 1:2). Young Earth creation was a standard view of literal inerrantists in the 60s and 70s, but is poorly represented among contemporary evangelical elites.

Many Christians have not yet truly come to grips with the evidence of a young Earth vs. an old Earth compromise with the presuppositions of evolution's time tables.

How can we understand these issues? Come hear and discuss these issues with our keynote speaker Dr. Steve Austin, one of the most profound scientific voices for biblical creationism today. Dr. Ray Mondragon, one of our CTS professors, will present two sessions on the Tower of Babel. Along with that we will also be challenged with other issues related to dispensationalism, hermeneutics, and eschatology. We hope you will find the time to strengthen your understanding of the Word of God and join us for rich biblical fellowship and a time of encouraging one another in our study and application of God's eternal truths.

Keynote speaker

Steve Austin

Dr. Steven A. Austin is an adjunct professor at Cedarville University. Previously he was Professor of Geology and chairman of the Geology Department at the Institute for Creation Research Graduate School where he specialized in field geology research as well as teaching and directing research. He has three degrees in Geology—University of Washington, San Jose State, and Pennsylvania State University (Ph.D.). He has made notable discoveries at the Grand Canyon and Mount St. Helens and has performed geologic research on six of the seven continents of the world. Dr. Austin has written four books and numerous technical papers for the Christian and secular press on creationist geology, and has also produced four videos dealing with geology plus developed a computer software program.

Currently Dr. Austin is also leading trips to the Grand Canyon, Mount St. Helens, and other sites of geological interest.

Topics Dr. Austin will cover during the conference include:

- Creation, Evolution, and the Grand Canyon
- Earthquakes of the Bible
- Mount St. Helens: Evidence for Creation
- Signs on the Day of the Cross (daytime session)
